1. The representative of Canton labor at the meetings of the National Committee of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference in Peiping in late June was TS'AI Sung-pai (蔡松柏). TS'AI states that at the meetings everything was prearranged by the Communists, and all voting was done according to their bidding.
2. After the meetings TS'AI was taken on an inspection trip to Manchuria. At Anshan he saw what he called the Communist air force, consisting of over 300 planes.
